CITY TO HAVE WHITE WAY.

John F. Carr and John E. Brick Secure Merchants' Aid Toward Illuminating, Dec. 10-26.

As a result of two hours' canvass of the Main Street business men Friday afternoon, John F. Carr and John E. Brick, two of the progressive merchants of the city, stated that sufficient funds had been guaranteed for the illumination of Main Street during the Christmas season.

It is planned to illuminate the street by means of streamers similar to those used by the makers at the opening night last spring. These lights will be hung from Lincoln square to the City Grocery store on the corner of Walnut Street, beginning with the Wednesday of the week before Christmas, December 16th and extending until December 26th, Saturday, or later if desired.

The scheme is another example of the fact that the business men of the city join, as a rule, in anything which will help them, and aid in making Willimantic as a progressive and up-to-date city.

Spiritualists' Sunday Service.

Rev. Mary S. Vanderbilt, the speaker and medium for the First Spiritualist Society Sunday morning at 11 o'clock and evening at 7.30 o'clock. The services will be held at the scenic theatre auditorium. The singing will be by Mr. C. Harwood Miller, with Miss Mabelle Taft at the piano.

OBITUARY.

Lester R. Weeks, 60, and for many years a resident of this city, died at the Hartford hospital Thursday night at eleven thirty, as the result of the shock following an operation for cancer of the glands of the neck two weeks ago. He had been afflicted with this trouble for some time, and although the operation appeared entirely successful, the patient never recovered from the shock to his system.

He was born in Eastford, November 28, 1854; the son of Godfred P. and Sarah E. Weeks. With the exception of five years spent in North Willimantic, he had lived in this city for a long time, and for the past five years had been employed by the American Thread company as an engineer. Previous to his illness he had not lost any working time in four years and seven months. He was held in high esteem by his employers and associate workers.

He is survived by his wife, Mrs. Georgianna Weeks, and a sister, Mrs. William V. Blythe of Andover, N. H. He was buried at the American cemetery in North Willimantic, Friday morning at ten o'clock and taken in charge by Undertaker Hiram N. Fenn.

George W. West, 77, died Thursday night at his home on Windham road, Semilly, was the cause of death. The deceased was born in Lisbon May 3, 1837, the son of Henry and Betsy (Chapman) West. He was one of the first to respond to the call to arms in the Civil war, and served in the Second regiment, and also in the 12th Conn. volunteers, where he held the rank of sergeant. A company, E. He is survived by his wife, a son, and a niece, Miss Abby Connors of Bridgeport, a department commander in the Woman's Relief corps of the state.

Mrs. John M. Alpaugh, 67, of Providence, a former resident of this city, where her husband was at one time in the dry goods business, died at her home in Providence at eight o'clock Friday morning after a short illness with pneumonia. The news of her death came as a shock to her many friends in this city.

The deceased is survived by her husband, two sons, Clifford J. and Frank L., both of this city, two sisters, Mrs. Frank Webb of this city and Mrs. Lilla Brown of Providence, and a brother, Allen B. Lincoln of New Haven.

IMPROVED CONDITIONS.

Good Effect of Traffic Regulations Already Evident. The difference in the appearance of the streets of the city since the new traffic ordinance went into effect, is very noticeable, and many remarks upon the subject have been heard. Chief Richmond and the men on the force have come in for their share of compliments on the way they have handled the situation, so that no friction has developed, as is so apt to be the case when a new law is put into effect.

By the orders of Chief Richmond, for several days before the ordinance went into effect, everyone who was doing what would be illegal on the day of the rules were enforced, was stopped and told in a quiet way, "that is all right today, but next week you will not be allowed to do that." In this manner interest in the provisions of the ordinance was stimulated, and most of those who customarily use the streets at night to do their errands, to see what they could or could not do.

A meeting of the ordinance committee was held Monday night to discuss the grievances of those who appeared before the aldermen last Tuesday night.

Blaze in Boarding House. There was a small blaze in the boarding house run by George Gaudin on Main street late Wednesday night, caused by the explosion of a gasoline stove, but it was extinguished by the occupants of the house without much damage resulting.

There are at present 74 inmates at the Connecticut Hospital for Epileptics at Mansfield, and superintendent Rose states that no more male patients can be admitted. The state has only provided for eighty patients, forty in each of the buildings for their reception, and nearly the full number which can be taken in charge is now at the institution.

Two Norwich Men Pay Fines in City Court. In the police court Friday morning, two young men who gave their names as John Harris, 22, and Stanley Anderson, 20, were charged with the violation of the ordinance against intoxication, and paid fines of one dollar with costs remitted. The young fellows were taken in charge by the police near the terminal of the Norwich trolley.

Plymouth Teacher Leaves Hospital. Miss Charlotte Lovering, a teacher in the public school in Plymouth, Mass., who underwent a slight operation in St. Joseph's hospital in this city the early part of the week, has been discharged, and will depart for a few days at her home in Scotland before resuming her duties in Plymouth.

Total of 575 Hospital Patients. Up to the present time this year 575 patients have been cared for at St. Joseph's hospital, 26 more than were cared for during the year of 1913.
